ELIZABETH STREET, ECHUCA – PRIVATE TENNIS COURT RESURFACING

Project	Private Tennis Court
Client	Private Residential Client
Timing	February 2019
Surface type	Acrylic

iDwala was engaged to deliver the refurbishment and resurfacing of a private tennis court at a residential property on Elizabeth Street, Echuca. The client requested a premium surface that balanced performance, aesthetics, and low maintenance - while providing a professional playing experience.

The project involved resurfacing an existing asphalt court with a high-quality acrylic coating system, chosen for its excellent slip resistance, reliable ball bounce and durability. iDwala's team carried out minor preparation works - including patching, levelling, and surface cleaning - before applying a multi-layer acrylic coating system in a custom colour palette that aligned with the client's vision.

To complete the court, full-size tennis line markings were applied to competition standard. The result is a vibrant, modern court that blends seamlessly with its surroundings while offering the feel of a tournament-grade facility.

As a private residential build, the project required careful access management and attention to cleanliness, ensuring minimal disruption to the property.

This project is a strong example of iDwala's ability to deliver tailored, high-quality outcomes across a range of contexts - from public sports infrastructure to bespoke private facilities. The new court now stands as a year-round recreational asset the homeowners can enjoy with confidence.
